TRIFLING WITH YOUR HEALTH

Is like Playing with a loaded Gun. If you have Kidney Trouble attend to it at once.

It is easy to tell whether your Kidneys or bladder are diseased. Take a bottle of glass tumbler and fill it with urine. If there is a sediment—a powder-like substance—after standing a day or night, if it is pale or discolored, rosy or stringy, there is something wrong with the Kidneys. Other sure signs of disease are a desire to urinate often, pain in the back, or if your urine stains linen.

There is no question that Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy is the best and surest medicine in the world for diseases of the Kidneys, Liver, Bladder and Blood, Rheumatism, Dyspepsia, Chronic Constipation, and the sickness peculiar to women. It quickly relieves and cures inability to hold urine at night, if it is pale or discolored, rosy or stringy, there is something wrong with the Kidneys. Other sure signs of disease are a desire to urinate often, pain in the back, or if your urine stains linen.

"For eleven years I suffered with kidney, liver and heart troubles, swimming in the head, dull headache and numbness of the limbs. Several physicians prescribed for me and I took different medicines, but none of them did me any good. I then began the use of Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy, and in about two weeks was entirely well."

All druggists sell Dr. David Kennedy's Favorite Remedy in the New 50 Cent bottle and the regular $1.00 size bottles.

Sample bottle—enough for trial, free by mail. 31-35

Home Bound.
Written for the Advertiser.
BY ANNIE S. MARSH.
There's a place—a don't mind telling—
That all sets my heart a swelling—
As I roll and the city's streets are ringing
With the whistle of the train.
That in chorus sound "to work" their changeless call.
There the hills are calling
To the silvery waters falling.
Dressed their best in nature's holiday attire,
And the messengers of heaven
Repeat the self-same strain
Of the coming home of daughter, son and sire.
I am just a trifle weary
I confess a little weary
Of adding walls and corridors and domes,
And I give you all the tip,
I am going to pack my grip
And make tracks for that one place that's always "Home."

Bargain Day.
Written for the Advertiser.
Come, John, hitch up old Billy bay
And drive me into town;
They're selling cheap the papers say,
I think I'll buy a gown.
Fix up the very best you know—
Remember while I'm gone.
For every one is sure to go.
You know 'tis bargain day.
I've sold fresh eggs and butter, too;
To count up quite a lot.
I think I'll try to make it do.
Although I wish I was more
But John, I think you'd better look—
Must have the safest way.
To see if you've your pocket book,
Because 'tis bargain day.
The sheets are getting old;
Things faded, worn out, mended,
All my dresses soil and fray,
Gloves and ribbons growing shocking
While I wait for bargain day.
I'll use the worn out things no more
But buy things fresh and new.
When I have reached the country store
And looked the bargains through.
Now fix up John, you can't look your best,
It certainly will pay.
For farmers from the east and west,
You'll meet on bargain day.
Should "and acquaintance" fade away
Old friends may meet on bargain day.
And talk of days of yore?
In that rare spot for 10 years. Might as
From near and far away
With one consent they gather all
When it is bargain day.

Caspean Lake.
Greensboro, Vt., July 15, 1902.
One who aside through the country
in this beautiful season and no congratulate himself on the arrival of summer.
Come with me for a moment and I will tell you all about my trip to this beautiful place. Take your map, if you please,
and find the location of Greensboro, then look for Andover. You will find it is one thing, that these places are situated
about the same as to north latitude.
Starting from Andover we travel by stage to Hanover village, where we
board the stage for Look's Mills, riding
through a beautiful valley of the Andro-scoggin, mountains on all sides. We leave the Androscoggin at East Bethel
and traverse a country having level roads
and pretty farmhouses, neatly painted.
We look for changes 20 years have elapsed since we traveled this road. We look for the old road to Bird's Hill, where years ago we taught school. The road has been fenced across and we are looking for the stage for Look's Mills.
The old spool mill has been burned and in its place is a larger mill. We call upon E. L. Tebbetts, who is managing this manufacturing. He tells us
a large shed, and very roomy cream
tank. Stable nearly new, work-shop,
opposite buildings, strong productive
soil, healthy location, telephone in house and rural free delivery. Must be seen to be appreciated. Address at

Written for the Advertiser.
Come, John, hitch up old Billy bay
And drive me into town;
They're selling cheap the papers say,
I think I'll buy a gown.
Fix up the very best you know—
Remember while I'm gone.
For every one is sure to go.
You know 'tis bargain day.
I've sold fresh eggs and butter, too;
To count up quite a lot.
I think I'll try to make it do.
Although I wish I was more
But John, I think you'd better look—
Must have the safest way.
To see if you've your pocket book,
Because 'tis bargain day.
The sheets are getting old;
Things faded, worn out, mended,
All my dresses soil and fray,
Gloves and ribbons growing shocking
While I wait for bargain day.
I'll use the worn out things no more
But buy things fresh and new.
When I have reached the country store
And looked the bargains through.
Now fix up John, you can't look your best,
It certainly will pay.
For farmers from the east and west,
You'll meet on bargain day.
Should "and acquaintance" fade away
Old friends may meet on bargain day.
And talk of days of yore?
In that rare spot for 10 years. Might as
From near and far away
With one consent they gather all
When it is bargain day.

Greensboro, Vt., July 15, 1902.
One who aside through the country
in this beautiful season and no congratulate himself on the arrival of summer.
Come with me for a moment and I will
tell you all about my trip to this beautiful place. Take your map, if you please,
and find the location of Greensboro, then
look for Andover. You will find it is one thing, that these places are situated
about the same as to north latitude.
Starting from Andover we travel by stage to Hanover village, where we
board the stage for Look's Mills, riding
through a beautiful valley of the Andro-scoggin, mountains on all sides. We
leave the Androscoggin at East Bethel
and traverse a country having level roads
and pretty farmhouses, neatly painted.
We look for changes 20 years have elapsed since we traveled this road. We
look for the old road to Bird's Hill,
where years ago we taught school. The
road has been fenced across and we are looking for the stage for Look's Mills.
The old spool mill has been burned and
in its place is a larger mill. We call upon E. L. Tebbetts, who is managing this manufacturing. He tells us
a large shed, and very roomy cream
tank. Stable nearly new, work-shop,
opposite buildings, strong productive
soil, healthy location, telephone in
house and rural free delivery. Must be seen to be appreciated. Address at once Alden E. Day, West Paris, Me. 30-41tf

Heart of Rangeleys.

Straight through the heart of some of the best game preserves in the state, the Rumford Falls and Rangeley Lakes Railroad will lead to Megantic. Work is now being carried on with a vim which will rush the road over the border with characteristic Yankee energy.

When this road was organized, Hon.

Galen C. Moses and the late Edwin Plummer of Lisbon Falls were the prime movers. The stock is now owned by the Portland & Rumford Falls road, the Berlin Mills Co., the International Paper

Co., and several other smaller stockholders, including the Plummer heirs, the Portland & Rumford Falls owning

the major part of the stock.

Starting from Rumford Falls the road now comes to Bemis, 28 miles. From Houghton to Summit, six miles, the engine puffs freely for there is a grade of 650 feet to be climbed. From Summit to Bemis a much shorter distance, there is a drop of 250 feet. The extension of the steam road from Bemis to the carry road near Haines Landing is very nearly completed, and will be open to travel during this month. Haines Landing is 1,510 feet above sea level and here on the carry will be established the station,

Stratglass. A sturdy old Scotch name which comes from the name of the ancestral holding of the Chisholm family in Scotland.

At this point the railroad company have purchased 250 acres of land from the International Paper Co., and have laid it out into streets, parks and house

lots for the employees of the company.

The station is to be opposite the store

on the carry and the little settlement

will be the headquarters of this division of the road for some time. In design it will be much like the one now being

Camp Caribou.

We had the pleasure of visiting the Blanchard family at their summer camp, named Camp Caribou, situated in the west part of the town. They have one of the finest places in Oxford county.

There are six rooms, three sleeping rooms, dining room and reception room, also woodshed and ice house, all under one roof, all ceiled with Georgia pine,

shelaeed and varnished.

A piazza runs the entire length of the building. The posts are native spruce, the limbs cut off about eight inches long, peeled and varnished. In the reception room they have a large photograph with several hundred records and a search light with which objects can be seen miles away. A flag staff 80 feet high with a schrover with mainsail and set as a weather vane; also a stable with carriage room and two box stalls, a good horse and carriage and one of the finest gardens in the country.

The family consist of Mr. Blanchard, wife and three sons. They keep one man and two girls as servants. They have squirrels that will come and climb into their hands and sit on the top of their hats. They have a young mink which they are domesticating. All the birds which come regularly after their meals.

The people are very entertaining and like to have visitors come and see them and hear the photograph. Any one can be assured of a good time, and visits them. There is a good carriage road to their cottage, and but a short distance from one of the finest mountain views in the State. From Caribou mountain can be seen many lakes and with a glass the city of Portland can be seen and the shipping in the harbor and several villages can be seen. The steamers plying between Harrison, Bridgton and Sebago

can be seen with the naked eye as it makes its trips down the lakes.

Last of Its Race.

Twelve years ago, a horse began cheerfully plodding along a three-mile stretch of track at Fryeburg. It was his business to pull a car from one end of the line to the other and then pull it back again. The whole burden of operating the system rested upon him. If he had balked the entire line would have gone out of commission. The company employed three cars, but it had no other horse

Big Trout in Maine.

Many anglers still refuse to believe that the monster trout of Maine, and especially of the Rangeley Lake region are the genuine Salvelinus fontinalis, or brook trout. Dr. Agassiz doubted it at first and was convinced of his error

by Senator Frye who has a cottage at Lake Moosebunkagano in Maine and who is an ardent angler. The Saturday Evening Post states that once

Senator Frye, after his return from his summer's outing, met the celebrated naturalist, Agassiz. Glowingly, Senator

Frye described his experiences.

"Among my triumphs," said he, "was the capture of a speckled trout that weighed fully eight pounds."

Dr. Agassiz smiled and said "Reserve that for the credulous and the conventional circles of the rod and reel celebrants, but spare the feelings a sober scientist."

"This is no campaign whooper I'm telling; I weighed the trout carefully and it was an eight-pounder."

"My dear Mr. Frye," remonstrated

Dr. Agassiz, "permit me to inform you that the Salvelinus fontinalis never attains that extraordinary weight. The creature you caught could not have Squirrels Loop the Loop.

Attraction on Main Street, Norway.

Diavolo, doing his hair-raising stunt of looping the loop on a bicycle; Ciquavalli, with his act of juggling pieces of household furniture; and the celebrated Kaufman family playing baseball with sixteen-pound cannon shots never have or never will attract the attention that the happy family of three squirrels do in their cage at the front of Simson Harrison's store on Main street. The squirrels, from the time when they awake at four o'clock in the morning until retired from their exertions at night, they perform gymnastic stunts in the big wire apartment, especially constructed for them, to the edification of the young and the keen enjoyment of the old. They were found with their mother, who later took back to the woods, by Dr. Frank Hayden on the shore of the lake about the middle of May. Then they were comfortably housed in the top of an old tree, with a nest made soft by dead leaves and dried grass.

After a game battle by the mother, she surrendered herself and offspring to Dr. Hayden, who transported them to a cigar box and started for town. They were a burden to him, and he presented them to Mr. Harrison, who has since looked after their welfare and proven the mother became dissatisfied with life in the city, and when her young had gained the way of eye-opening she gnawed a hole in the wooden box in which they lived, and went away. Ground beechnuts, matted milk and crushed peanuts formed the menu of the squirrels during their days of infancy and teaching, but now their bill of fare is made up largely of corn on the cob, acorns and nuts. In part payment for the benevolence of their friends, the squirrels go through a sort of endless chain of runs and jumps, sometimes times so fast that it is hardly possible to follow their movements.

One of the little fellows has a back-handed somersault such as the clown we laugh at in the circus goes through after he falls from the horizontal bar. Another leaps from one corner of the cage diagonally across the box to the opposite corner and back to the starting-point without a stop and barely touching the floor of the cage in the act. The favorite trick of the trio is a leap over the bar which reaches across the cage, and a backward dive underneath with the body level with the floor.

Occasionally, tiring of these mild forms of amusement, one will make a dive for the side of the cage and turning without a stop dart through a small hole in the side of a cream of tartar box, out through the top and off to the horizontal bar. Swinging from the bar by means of the front paws and tail, and then dropping through the hole in the box and another act that is frequently put in by the actors as a sort of diversion from the endless chain on the loop the loop.

The distance from one end of the box to the other, over the route followed by the squirrels, is thirty-six inches. Mr. Harrison says they keep the race up for ten hours in the day at the rate of seventy-five trips an hour, which, if a cyclometer was attached to one of them, would give him about 45,000 trips a day. At that rate he could get in Manila before an army transport, and starting now would arrive in London two days before the coronation of King Edward. In three months he could make a complete tour of the world and be pretty near at the finish of his second trip back home, provided he didn't get laid up with rheumatism or a stiffness of the joints from overwork.

He Says Maliciously False.

EDITOR OF ADVERTISER, NORWAY, ME.
We see in your issue of July 25th serious charges against Edgar L. Flint made by two correspondents from this part of the county.

The first that of "desertion" he has fully and we believe truly answered in advertisement of above date and there is no doubt that all ex-soldiers who vote the Republican ticket will support him, as the unanimous choice for sheriff at their convention.

The other charges are maliciously false. He has been deputy sheriff here eight years, has faithfully and truly performed all the duties of that office and is a good citizen and townsman.

We have known him many years and believe him above all others "true" at one of the other parties for personal spite.

EAST HIRAM.

Hiram W. C. T. will meet this week Friday at M. E. church.

Rev. A. F. Hinkley delivered his temperance lecture—Diffusing to a good-sized audience at the M. E. church last Tuesday evening. He is an able speaker and is greatly aided by his stereopticon illustrations, many of which were made especially for him.

Waterford in Summer Attire.

Waterford once more resumes its summer gaiety and is as ever dear to its annual visitors, and the try has been for a long time, no rooms. When will it be otherwise? Some have thought that when the "old patrons" passed on that possibly "the younger fry" or "newcomers" might alter scenes, but such is not the case, for every year brings new blood, new enthusiasm, "They do tell their friends," and for real solid enjoyment where can it be duplicated? Such a clean well kept, well shaded place, and intelligent, hospitable, quiet people to cater for them.

Among the first arrivals were Mr. and Mrs. E. Porter, Lakewood, N. J., and son, George Wyman Porter, Lakewood, Mass., to occupy the Porter house, the latter part of May, for their sixth season, and about the first of July Mrs. C. K. Munroe, daughter, Mrs. Flagg and her daughter Emilie from Cambridge, Mass. Mrs. Munroe is the only sister of the late Chas. H. Kimball, who was the founder of that famous winter resort, Lakewood, N. J. Mr. and Mrs. Lithgo of Providence, R. I., spent about six weeks at the Lake House with mine, host and hostess, the Dudleys.

Soon after Mr. Fanning and daughter from Providence came for their third or fourth season. Later on a cousin joined them. Soon after Mr. Emery, his mother, Mrs. Chas. Harlow, his sister, Mrs. Huntington, maid, their boys, coachman and son, the Harlows came for the full season, and were gladly welcomed. Mr. Emery is a Waterford boy who "struck" State St., Boston, and enjoys his old scenes as well as ever. Has his weather eye out for a fine building spot, and Scott after the Fourth Port. John Hyatt Brewer (always welcomed) with Mrs. Brewer, Mrs. Bailey, Miss White and two nephews, the Masters Brandon, from Thomaston, Ga., Mr. Taylor, son Harry, daughter Jessie and a number of friends from New York spent a week flying for black bass, etc. A little later Mrs. Harrington, sister of Mr. Taylor, her 20th visit here, with her son Jim who brought a canoe of his and his brother Wentworth's handwork, and a thing of joy and beauty, and a niece of Mrs. H., Miss Houghton, Dr. C. O. Gordon, wife, son and daughter of Brooklyn, N. Y., old and valued patrons of the Lake House, also Dr. Ellison Hillier, wife and son Kenneth came, and were welcomed, brought a handsome St. Lawrence skiff. The doctor is a great waterman as well as base ball enthusiast, and while not a large man is an all round good fellow.

Mr. E. Buckman, a lawyer from Boston, young and frisky, with the ball and bat, a friend of the Emerys (and everybody else) and welcomed by the B. B. enthusiasts was welcomed. Dudley, with his sleeves rolled up and a determined look, Mrs. Dudley, always with a smile, and son Grey are doing their level best to cheer their old patrons. Their hours are long, but night finds them with a smile and ready for nature's sleep, and sleep, and up before the sun (late).

Mrs. Knight's house has been full, and many have been the reports, no rooms. Mr. and Mrs. Parker came so as to be here the Fourth, he returning soon after leaving his wife, daughter and the baby. Mr. P. bought the first cottage lot and will next season build near the ice house, The Pioneer, and without doubt soon to be followed by others.

Mr. and Mrs. Upham and two daughters from Quincy, Ill., came soon after for the season. A Mrs. McIntire from spent a number of pleasant weeks with the Parkers and says oh, certainly she'll come again.

Edmund Bidwell from Springfield, Mass., a Harvard law student, is making his fourth or fifth visit. He and Geo. W. Porter have just completed a very neat and tasty camp on "Rocky Point" and had their opening Saturday evening with about twenty guests, and so well arranged that all were enthusiastic over Camp Rocky Point. The flag was raised as near as we could guess at the stranger Sunset with a salute and cheers. The ice cream, sherbet, sandwiches, cheese crackers, eggs, olives, cakes, coffee etc., were much enjoyed. The grounds were prettily decorated with about fifty Chinese lanterns. Some lettered in colors, "Rocky Point," made a pleasing effect. This being the first camp on the lake may stimulate others to go and do likewise.

Mrs. Callamore and son Loney came the first of the month to their cottage and are always welcomed. They help much to make the season a pleasant one. Mrs. Bertha Adams, three children and maid from Orange, N. J., came for the season. Later on Mrs. Calvin Wheeler, mother of Mrs. Adams, from Chatham, N. J. Mrs. W. is a daughter of the late John E. Sanderson, and never misses a chance to visit her old home scenes.

Mr. and Mrs. Francis and daughter from Orange, N. J., are at Mrs. Munroe's for their second visit and will come again.

Mr. and Mrs. Percy Hogan of Brooklyn spend some time here their annual from away back, will come again later, old patrons of Mrs. Atterton. Dr. Cornish, also at Mrs. Atterton's, says that Waterford is all right.

Dr. and Mrs. Gibbons and daughter are at Mrs. Wilkins' for their 12th or 13th season. Mrs. W.'s cry has been, no rooms.

C. C. Godwin has cried no rooms, every one occupied by relatives. He says they don't pay much but he likes to have them with him as it gives him occupation looking for supplies, and then they live so much better.

C. D. Morse sold his store to L. R. Rounds & Co. and has bought the Lottie Stone house and will entertain a few boarders including the new doctor and wife, Dr. and Mrs. Coburn. As Mr. Morse is the official undertaker they make a happy combination. Whether they are in partnership or not no one knows. Since the doctor came no one has had occasion for an undertaker, so all must wait and see whose turn comes next.

Our much esteemed pastor, T. S. Perry, has been quite ill with pneumonia for number of weeks, but is improving slowly, and if good wishes come will soon be out again. Dr. Gibbons, who came for a complete rest, has very kindly filled the pulpit with pleasure to himself and the people.

The cowbells have been swathed so far much to the comfort of the late sleepers and sick ones. A wise move as well, as a consideration.

There is great running for boats, not enough to go around. No lively nearer than Harrison and Bridgton. Ping pong, croquet, base ball, fishing, tramping, swimming, tennis, etc., help amuse.

Al Matiz & Co. appear Wednesday evening. Ice cream sold at vestry once a week and all sold out.

General Debility

Day in and out there is that feeling of weakness that makes a burden of itself. Food does not strengthen. Sleep does not refresh. It is hard to do, hard to bear, what should be easy—vitality is on the ebb, and the whole system suffers. For this condition take

Hood's Sarsaparilla

It vitalizes the blood, gives vigor and tone to all the organs and functions, and is positively unequalled for all run-down or debilitated conditions.

Hood's PILLS cure constipation. 25 cents.

SUMMER OUTINGS.

Are you going up the lake on a picnic, or to stay a week or all summer? Are you planning for a fishing trip or a day's pleasure? You will want something good to eat. Canned meats, Sardines, Pickles, Olives and Relishes; Imported and Domestic Fruits and Vegetables; Fancy Crackers, Biscuits and Cakes. We have the best and freshest assortment of what you need, and the prices are very reasonable.

CHAS. F. RIDLON

Corner Main and Danforth Streets, Norway, Maine

$14.85 Buys a 3 piece

Oak Chamber Suit.

There would not be anything remarkable in the above statement, if the Chamber Suit was not a Remarkable One at the Price. You'd readily pay $18 or $20 for it, in fact, the latter price is what it would sell for ordinarily. We bought a lot of these Three-Piece Oak Suits with the intention of putting them out as Leaders at a Special Price. $14.85 seems to be about right, judging from the demand for them. Better come for one at your earliest convenience, no more to be had when these are gone.

Democratic District Convention and Caucus.

A Democratic convention of the representative district composed of the towns of Waterford, Sweden, Sten, Denmark, Albany, Stoneham, Greenwood and Woodstock, was recently held at North Waterford to determine which town should name the candidate for representative and it was decided that Waterford should make the nomination. Accordingly a caucus was called for Saturday, July 26th, for the purpose of naming the man, which was well attended and Bertrand G. McIntire was nominated by acclamation, and in a few well chosen and characteristic remarks accepted the nomination and is so doing emphasized the fact that all efforts in his behalf must be made by thoroughly clean and honorable methods for it was not his desire to have one single vote cast for him which might be obtained in any other manner.

Mr. McIntire is a young man who is well known and favored by the people in the district but all over the State, a man whom his townsmen delight to honor. He showed and undoubtedly will receive the votes of the thinking in both political parties who place the man above the party.
